NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Is Life Worth Living?

Most people will say that of course it is, but the poorer Europeans in Hongkong are rapidly coming to the conclusion that it is not—at least in this Colony. Take for instance the man earning a couple of hundred dollars a month. What can he save out of it? He is expected to live respectably and to dress well on that amount, or his employers want to know the reason why. If he is a bachelor he may manage to do fairly well. His living will probably cost him a hundred dollars a month, if he lives in one of the boarding houses or smaller hotels. Another ten will give him a boy to wait upon him; tobacco and drinks, if he is not extravagant, will amount to another fifteen dollars; amusements and literature will run away with another fifteen at a very least; while the same amount for washing and clothes will not be at all out of the way, and another five dollars a month will allow him to belong to one or two recreation clubs of sorts. Thus his monthly expenses, exclusive of any real luxuries, amount to one hundred and sixty dollars a month and he should be able to save forty. The bachelor of modest tastes should thus do fairly well on this salary.

But how many married men have we earning but this amount? How do they look on life in Hongkong? The married man must have a house of his own; this, at the very least, costs him forty-five dollars a month. He must keep a boy, cook and coolie, costing about twenty-eight dollars. Food will certainly come to seventy-five dollars a month; light and firing fifteen; washing, dress, fifteen; drinks and tobacco fifteen; and the married man has a couple of dollars left, which will probably vanish long before the end of the month is reached. How such a man can be expected to support a wife and bring up a family in Hongkong, it is difficult to understand, yet very many are now attempting it, for salaries have not risen in proportion to the increased cost of living or the decline in exchange.

Ten years ago to-day exchange was at 3s. 1d., and two hundred dollars a month represented no less than thirty pounds five shillings. To-day exchange is at 1s. 11 3/16d. and the same salary only works out at nineteen pounds, six shillings and five pence half penny, a loss of over thirty-three per cent. Take into consideration that rents have appreciated some one hundred per cent. and that food stuffs have increased fifty per cent., while imported articles have kept pace with the fall in exchange and it is easily seen that two hundred dollars per month is a very poor salary upon which to support a wife and family.

Wethink that the time will soon come when either rents and foodstuffs will have to decline or salaries go up. It is idiotic to suppose that the average European comes to Hongkong for the benefit of his health, or with any intention of living his life out here if he can possibly help it, and unless matters soon improve it will be difficult to attract people from England. We should like to hear the opinions of a few of our readers upon the question of the cost of living in Hongkong, for it is one which affects everyone.

A Triad Society Rising.

As will be seen by reference to another column, a mission station has been burnt in the interior of Kwangtung Province, and the deed is laid at the door of the Triad Society. It will be remembered that the troubles which occurred last year just across our own border, when Hui Chou was threatened and Admiral Ho marched out from Sam Chun in force, and marched back again without finding the rebels, were also said to be the work of the Triads. But last year the Triads gave out that they did not intend to harm foreigners, and it is a fact that the mission stations which lay in their route were left severely alone. Now, however, we are told that the Society has added to its banner the words "Destroy the Foreigners" and if this proves to be the case we shall doubtless have trouble. The Triad Society is one of, if not the most powerful secret society in China, and its avowed object is supposed to be the overthrow of the present dynasty. We do not suppose that any foreigner would be very much upset at seeing the present Government of China turned out neck and crop, for it is so rotten to the core that no change could be for the worse. But when the Triads come to including the foreigners in the same category as the Chinese Government we reach a stage at which we cannot stand idly by and watch events. If the Triads are really upon the warpath it will be well for the foreigners to keep a bright look out, and we would advise our local authorities to keep on the alert. If the Triads intend any action near Hongkong it is nearly sure to develop in the neighbourhood of Salikun, in the New Territory. We should advise the Police to keep a bright eye upon this village, for it is the headquarters of the Society in these parts.

LONDON, September 28th.

The garrisons of forts Italia and Prospect, on the Zululand border have gallantly repulsed an attack of Commandant Botha in force, inflicting heavy loss on the enemy.

THE AMERICA CUP RACE.
"COLUMBIA" WINS FIRST RACE.

September 29th.

The first Yacht Race for the America Cup, 15 miles outward beat and return, has been re-sailed, and won by the American Yacht, Columbia which crossed the winning line 37 seconds ahead of Shamrock II, thus winning independently of the time allowance.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE ENGLISH MAIL of the 31st August was delivered in London on the 29th ulto.

THE NAVAL AUTHORITIES are advertising for tenders for the supply of Teak, American Fir, Camphor and Hard Wood for one year from the 12th instant.

DEAN FARRAR thinks that while there is less of open and ostentatious infidelity in these days than there was in the days of Charles II., or in the early years of the eighteenth century, there is a far more widely spread spirit of doubt, and even of positive unbelief, than there has ever been, even among men who have never professedly abandoned allegiance to the religion of their fathers.

COMMANDANT BOTHA has, we are told, received a severe repulse in attacking Forts Italia and Prospect, on the Zululand Border. We only wish that he had received a little more, for until he is caught there does not seem to be much chance of peace. By the way, what has become of De Wet? We have heard nothing of that gentleman for quite a long time. Surely it is high time that a report as to his being surrounded once more was received.

AN INTERLUDE.—On a hot summer day, the Rev. Pettit, one of the best-known priests in Milwaukee, was preaching in St. Raphael's Church, while in an adjoining lot a number of boys were playing baseball. He had taken "Heaven and the Means of Reaching There" as the subject of his sermon, and when he came to the end of a passage, he paused in a solemn manner and asked: "How, then, shall we reach heaven?" Just then came floating through the church window, in a highkeyed voice, "Slide like the devil, slide." It was one of the boy baseball players coaching a shamrock.

SHAMROCK II, has, it seems been badly beaten in the first race for the America Cup. No details of the wind are given, however, all that we are told being that the race was a beat to windward of fifteen miles and return. Critics of the Shamrock II are apparently agreed that she will never do well in light winds, but that she will be hard to beat in anything like a stiff breeze. As a matter of fact we have very little hope of the America Cup ever being brought back to the Old Country except by a fluke. The English boat is always handicapped badly by the condition that she must perform a certain portion of the voyage across the Atlantic under sail. This means that she must be very strongly constructed and a deal of speed has to be thus sacrificed. On the other hand, the American boat does not need to have seagoing qualities, but can be a racing machine pure and simple. Every Englishman would be overjoyed to see Sir Thomas Lipton return with the cup, but it seems rather too much to hope for. Of one thing we may be certain, and that is that when we do get it Uncle Sam will have the odds against him in the same way as they have been against us for so long, for his boat will have to be a seaworthy one to cross over the Atlantic.

THE BODY OF A CHINAMAN, named Po Tong, found in an unlicensed lamp, has been taken to the mortuary, where it was ascertained that death was due to drowning.

HOW HE DID IT.—Moses: "How did you make your fortune?"
Levi: "By horse-racing."
Moses: "Not betting?"
Levi: "No, I started a pawnshop just outside the race-course for the people who wanted to get home when the races were over."

THE EMPRESS OF CHINA brought back to the Colony quite a crowd of holiday makers, amongst them being Major General Sir William and Lady Gascoigne, Sir John Carrington, Miss Carrington, Lieut. and Mrs. Bagnall Wild, Capt. and Mrs. Pryne, Mr. and Mrs. Drutton, Mrs. W. Hutton Potts, Mr. David Gillies and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Lammett.

ANOTHER RISING OF THE TRIAD SOCIETY.

Fears are generally entertained that the trouble in the North is not ended and, as showing the wide-spread disaffection, news is to hand of a rebellion in the Kuang Tung province. Five days travel North West of Swatow is a town called Hin Nen: here for the last twenty years have been established missionaries belonging to the Basel Mission, entirely a German undertaking, and for fourteen years have they been constantly resident in the district.

It appears that just outside Hin Nen is the Mission Station, Ping Thong, 30 miles north of this again is Lo Kon. Here were stationed Mr. Kutter and Mr. Ramming. For some time the country side has been in a state of ferment, but no trouble, as far as the foreigners were concerned, was anticipated. The friendly natives impressed on the aliens that it was to be a rising against the Manchu dynasty, not against Europeans. Undoubtedly the Triad Society is at the bottom of the rising and why, if they do not interfere with or endanger the lives of foreigners they should not be allowed to work out their own salvation without intervention from strangers, who practically know nothing of the issue at stake, is something that only a busy body can answer.

One thing is explained to us that we should like some more evidence on before vouchsafing an opinion; that is, the Triad Society banners now bear an added inscription. "Destroy foreigners." If this is so the actions of these Social Democrats will bear another aspect.

Resuming the account of the Basel Mission. It seems that at Ping Thong there were stationed Mr. Maer and Mr. Ebert with their wives; they knew of the trouble brewing but were assured by one Li Tsiu Ku, the head of a very strong clan at Sin Pi that they need not be anxious, as there was no fear of the rebels harming them. It was decided, however, to remove the ladies to Gia Yiu Chow and, if no bad news was received, for the two men to return to Ping Thong. A boat was procured and the journey made in safety, although the first night was a sleepless one, owing to the excited manner of a number of strange men that flocked round. Starting on Friday afternoon Gia Yiu Chow was reached on Sunday afternoon, where horses were ready to take the gentlemen back to Ping Thong. Before starting on the journey it was understood that if no notice to the contrary reached them they would start on the return trip on Tuesday morning. On Monday evening word came that it would be unwise to return, and on Tuesday morning the news arrived that the Mission Station had been looted and burnt.

But how about Mr. Kutter and Mr. Ramming, who were 30 miles north again from Ping Thong? Mr. Ramming had left some little time previously on business, so Mr. Kutter had to get out as best he might. It is known he started to come south and was well mounted, on the road he met a party of rebels laden with booty, busily engaged in dividing the spoil. By good luck he escaped, being much better mounted than his pursuers, but all his baggage, that was following, was captured. He arrived at the outside station, Sin pi, just across the river from Ping Thong and stopped there for the night. He left next morning for Chong Lok and, it is believed he is safe, although nothing definite has been heard of him. So at present the matter stands, Mr. and Mrs. Ebert and Mr. and Mrs. Maer are safe and well in Hongkong and the mission station is burnt. The present trouble is evidently not directed against foreign missionaries because the first attack was against the town of Hing-ning where they were repulsed by the townspeople with a loss of ten killed and four taken prisoners they then attacked Sha Mah and were successful and caused great loss of life. The Gia Hing Chau militia have been sent against them and the Taoist of Chow Chow Fu is sending 900 soldiers to co-operate with 700 from Fut Taw Fu. Let the belligerents fight it out between themselves and only interfere when their natural hatred of foreigners and inborn love of plunder threaten the lives or property of the Fanqui.

CONCERT AT THE SOLDIERS' CLUB.

A very diversified programme was placed before the audience at the Soldiers' Club last evening. The arrangements were in the hands of Bandmaster Moir of the R.W.F., and like everything he undertakes they were conscientiously and faithfully carried out. His Excellency The Governor and Colonel Browne were present with a large following of officers of all branches of the services. We were glad to see that the Rev. Mr. Hardy, the army Chaplain, was present to witness his "boys" amusing themselves. The list of performers was an exceptionally strong one, in fact such a galaxy of talent is rarely seen together at one entertainment in Hongkong. The band of the R.W.F. opened the proceedings with selections from Sullivan's The Sorcerer, most admirably rendered. Next followed Pte Kent, who, in both parts of the programme, delighted his audience with his Irish impersonations. Songs by Band Sergeant Adams, Sergeant Hunt and Sergeant Palmer were well sung, and heartily applauded. Mr. Oxberry, who gave The Grouches, appeared to be in good voice, and we noticed he also is taking more care in his rendering and giving the ballads as they are written, and guarding against the fault of P. O. Pitcher, of H.M.S. Isis, who obliged with a nautical version of Queen of the Earth. Space will not allow of us going through the long programme in detail. Mr. Alec. Marsh sang four songs, although at some personal inconvenience through suffering from a bad cold. The Leather Bottle was a particularly happy effort, as also was the Tinker's Song. The quartette, without accompaniment, was a delightful number; the members were Moir, alto, Adams, bass, Hunt, baritone, and Pearce, tenor, who all evidenced careful training under the eye of Bandmaster Moir.

Mr. G. Clarke, who was down for a recitation, was unable to proceed owing to the rowdy behaviour of a number of those present. All praise is due to Bandmaster Moir for arranging such an evening's amusement and bringing all branches and grades together. Let us hope these concerts may become monthly events.

AT THE MAGISTRACY.

GAMING.

Ng Yung is a gambler as well as a coolie. On Monday he was caught gaming with 20 or 30 others in Des Vaux Road. Unfortunately for him he could not run as quickly as his friends, with the result that he was caught by the police and removed to the station.

He told Mr. Kemp he was looking on at the game that and, when the stampede came he was arrested. Nevertheless he was ordered to pay $3 or go to gaol for ten days.

A STRONG ARGUMENT.

Two coolies and a man of no occupation were fighting in the chair shelter at the Peak terminus, and their noise attracted the police. This morning they told Mr. Kemp they were skyarking and having a little argument. His Worship thought otherwise, and remanded the debaters for further enquiries.

HEAVY PENALTY.

Cheung Yeung was fined $100, with the alternative of two months' imprisonment with hard labour, for having in his possession, on the 30th September, 12 taels of raw opium without a valid certificate of purchase.

TOMMIES IN TROUBLE.

James Tranter, 26, and David Buttle, 21, privates in the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, were brought before Mr. Kemp charged with unlawfully assaulting Wong Sing, a tailor, on the 30th September. He fined each of them $3, and ordered them to be sent to prison for 10 days unless the money was paid.

JACK ASHORE.

A Danish seaman, named Walter Iveson, having had more intoxicating drink than was good for him, became disorderly, with the result that he will have to pay $2 or go to prison for a week.

AN ILL WIND.

Cheung Shing and Chan Chak were fined $5 or 14 days' imprisonment for unlawfully anchoring their boats in the Southern Fairway, thereby causing an obstruction. They pleaded there was no other place for them to anchor and that the wind blew them on to the forbidden ground.

SIMILARITY.

Wong On and Keung Chau, summoned for a similar offence, pleaded a similar excuse, and were fined a similar amount.

A HEAVY CARGO.

A married Chinawoman, who owns a licensed rowing boat, made sure of a good fare by taking three passengers in excess of the number allowed by her license, in Aberdeen Harbour on Monday last. She was ordered to pay $5 or retire from her rolling life for a fortnight.

A TASTE FOR PORK.

Po Loi, stonecutter, was sent to prison for 3 weeks with hard labour for stealing a pig, value $5, the property of Set Yik, a bricklayer, at Shamshai Po, on Monday last.

THEFT OF WOOD.

Wong To stole three pieces of wood, value 50 cents, and Ah Kee, a shopkeeper, charged him with the theft. The coolie will work without remuneration for fourteen days.

ANONYMOUS GENEROSITY.

Although Chan Yat is a fishing boat master about 50 years of age, he was found in his possession, and when accused of obtaining it by other than lawful means he told Mr. Kemp that a man gave it to him. His worship said: Ten dollars or 14 days.

COOLIE INGENUITY.

U Yik stole a wooden box, value $5.50, the property of the Government, and David Goring charged him with the theft. This morning the coolie said he was going along the street when he met a scavenger, who gave him the box as it was not wanted, and told him to take it away. U Yik will remain under lock and key for a month.

J. ROSSELET AND CO. v. THE GODOWN CO.

The plaintiffs, J. Rosselet and Co., merchants, sued the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company, Limited, for the sum of $76, damages for the non-delivery by the defendants to the plaintiffs, in January, 1900, of twelve cases of Bass and Co.'s Pale Ale, the property of the plaintiffs, at $23 per case. The hearing took place on the 26th ult. The judgment is as follows:—

In August, 1899, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha S.S. Sada Maru arrived in this Colony and discharged thirty cases of ale and stout into the Kowloon Godowns of the defendant Company. The shippers were Hannams, Ltd., who shipped under a bill of lading made out to "order." Hannams, Ltd., endorsed the bill of lading in blank and sent it to the plaintiffs, who were consignees of the ale and stout in question. The plaintiff obtained the countersignature of the agent of the Sada Maru to the bill of lading, which was endorsed by Rosselet & Co. and presented to the defendant Company and retained by that Company. Up to 26th August, 1899, eighteen of the thirty cases had been removed by the consignees. On that date the consignees received from the defendants a short delivery note for the balance of 12 cases. On the 7th January, 1900, the plaintiffs sent to take delivery of this balance, but were informed that it had been sold by auction. The short delivery note was then put into a safe, where it slipped under a drawer and was not discovered till the beginning of April, 1901. This accident is the reason why an action was not brought earlier.

The present action is brought upon the short delivery note of the 26th August, 1899, to recover $76 damages, being the value of 12 cases at $23 a case, for non-delivery on demand made on 20th January, 1900. A variety of defences, as unexpected as they were unsound, was advanced. First, it was set up that there was no contract contained in the short delivery note, because there was no consideration for the promise to deliver to the holder of it.

The plaintiffs parted with their bill of lading or document of title to goods in return for the short delivery note: that was a consideration, and if necessary, an implied promise to pay storage dues could be added as a consideration. The defence of negligence also fails, for there was no voluntary acquiescence of the plaintiffs in the infringement of their rights by the defendants: it was merely the loss of the short delivery note which delayed action being taken.

Then, it was said that plaintiffs were out of time and could not bring an action on the contract. This was said in reference to the phrase "del. up to 22nd September, 1899," which appears on the face of the short delivery note. Other short delivery notes put in show that this, in full, is "deliver up to 22nd September, 1899," and not "delivery up to 22nd September, 1899." The former phrase is an order, the latter phrase is a promise. The construction which the Court places on "deliver up to 22nd September, 1899," is that it is a direction to servants of the Wharf and Godown Co. and is not an integral portion of the short delivery note. If that construction is wrong and the phrase is to be construed as equivalent to "delivery will be given up to 22nd September, 1899," and is to be viewed, as contended, as a condition precedent, I observe that this is a condition which is to be fulfilled by the defendant Company and one which, if not enforced by the plaintiffs, becomes a mere warranty giving rise to an action for damages, but does not operate to discharge the plaintiffs. If the phrase means "delivery is to be taken by 22nd September, 1899," it is also clear that, if it was a condition precedent, the defendants have by their conduct allowed it to deteriorate into a mere warranty sounding in damages, and that this does not operate to discharge the defendants.

Having regard to the practice of the Wharf and Godown Co. to keep goods four or five months, and to the words themselves, it seems to me to be impossible to make the words "del. up to 22nd September, 1899," read as if they meant, "We give you up to the 22nd September, 1899, as the limit of time for clearance; if you don't clear within that time, we shall dispose of the goods as we see fit." I feel almost sure that the defendants did not mean this, and I am sure that the plaintiffs would not have contracted on such terms.

As regards the point that delivery was to be taken within a reasonable time, I think not only that the demand of the 20th January, 1900, was made within reasonable time, but also that no idea that the goods had been kept for an unreasonable time had occurred to the defendants, otherwise a warning would in fair play have been given to the plaintiffs.

If this action for damages for breach of contract to deliver had failed, it would be surprising if the defendants were not liable in conversion as well as upon implied contract conveyed by the relation of the parties.

The plaintiff is liable to the defendants for $60 storage, and this will be set off against the sum of $77 claimed.

The result is that judgment will be for plaintiffs for $20 and costs, which, I am sorry, cannot be as between solicitor and client, because this is not matter of equitable jurisdiction.

Mr. F. B. Jackson, solicitor (Messrs. Deacon and Hastings), appeared for the defendants; and Mr. J. Lay, solicitor (Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Bask), for the plaintiffs.

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOUR.

It was currently reported in town to-day that the North German Lloyd folk had purchased the property of Messrs. F. Blackhead & Co., at Kowloon Point, for $350,000, that the papers dealing with the property had been sent home to Germany, and that wharves and godowns would be erected on the property for the accommodation of the North German Lloyd vessels.

Upon enquiry at the office of Messrs. Melchers & Co., to-day, we were informed that there was no foundation whatever for the rumour.

CHINESE AND HAWAII.

STRINGENT IMMIGRATION LAWS.

The United States Commissioner of Immigration in Victoria, B.C., Mr. David Healy, has received advices from Washington containing the opinion of Attorney-General Knox in answer to the question placed before the Treasury Department some time ago as follows:—

"Is there any statutory provision to prevent the entrance into the territory of Hawaii of Chinamen now legally resident in the United States?"

Summed up in brief the opinion of the attorney-general is given is that "Chinamen now resident in the United States, duly registered as labourers, are entitled to admission at the ports of the territory of Hawaii."

This opinion is based to a great extent on the accepted constitutional fact that the right to be and remain within the United States carries with it the right to pass into any portion thereof.

One peculiar phase of the question, however, arises from the fact that no Chinese may return to the States after having left them to enter the territory of Hawaii. The reason for this is that the resolution of annexation of the Hawaiian Islands provides that "there shall be no further immigration of Chinese into the Hawaiian Islands except upon such condition as are now or may hereafter be allowed by the United States, and no Chinese by reason of anything herein contained shall be allowed to enter the United States from the Hawaiian Islands."

On account of this latter condition it is presumed that Chinese immigration into the islands will not assume alarming proportions, for however much the Chinamen may look with favour toward the palm-fringed shore, it possesses no allurements when the door to the United States labour field is open to him.—The Vancouver Daily Province.

SPREAD OF MOHAMMEDANISM
IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The Vancouver Daily Province says that:—Christian missionaries are greatly alarmed by the rapid spread of the creed of Islam in the Philippines and fear is expressed that the Mohammedan religion may conquer the islands.

The zeal of the Moslem missionaries is wonderful and the results of their work are astonishing.

Of the eight Moslem missionaries in Manila, three are Americans, three Filipinos and two Malays. The American Moslems are thoroughly conversant with American affairs, the Filipino Moslems with Filipino affairs and the Malay Moslems with affairs in Singapore and India, whence the funds for the mission are derived.

The head of the mission is Emla Nabokoff, a native of Russia and a brother of the Russian captain who, with a number of companions, was executed in Bulgaria about fifteen years ago for invading Bulgaria in the same way as Dr. Jameson invaded the Transvaal.

The Islamic doctrine that interest is robbery will be the main weapon of the missionaries. Owing to the usurious Spaniards this weapon can be wielded with enormous effect in the islands. It was the custom of Spaniards to charge enormous rates of interest on loans in the Philippines. As high as 1,000 per cent. a year was charged and an average rate of 10 per cent. a month.

Labour was taken in lieu of money in the payment of interest, and children were considered as security in many cases. There are numerous instances of families for five generations working for Spaniards to pay off a loan. When the United States took possession of the islands there were 100,000 Filipinos who were required to give from sixty to one hundred days' labour out of every year to Spanish usurers.

PRINCE CHUN.

AN INTERESTING INTERVIEW.

ROME, 26th August.

While Prince Chun, on board the Bayern was at Genoa, a representative of the Corriere della Sera, of Milan, had a brief interview with the Prince, and an even more interesting conversation with Baron Rauch, who was travelling with the exilary mission on behalf of the German Government.

Baron Rauch, a nephew of Count von Waldersee, pointed to the fact of Germany, alone among the Powers, fixing a garrison of 2,000 men at Shanghai, without England venturing to protest, as a proof of Germany's leading position in the Far East.

Now, he said, Germany has garrisons at Peking, Tientsin, Taku, Shanghai-Kwan, Shanghai—in all, 12,000 men, not counting the strong garrison at Kiao-Chan.

Baron Rauch does not think that the present mission will serve as a peg on which to hang commercial treaties in Germany's favour, but he foresees that it will arise and consolidate Germany's prestige, as it will probably appear to the Chinese in the light of an act of homage.

In this connection, however, it is to be noted that the Baron states that the reception at Berlin will take place under the forms of European etiquette. Prince Chun will therefore be exempted from the nine genuflections which the etiquette of the Chinese Court requires, and will meet the German Emperor as an equal. The exilary character of the mission must therefore necessarily be lessened in the eyes of the Chinese. Before the solemn reception Prince Chun will have a private interview with the Emperor, the interpreter alone being present.

GERMANY MAY PLAY CHUN.

If, says the correspondent, Baron Rauch's thought reflects that of his uncle, we must suppose that Marshal von Waldersee looks upon Prince Chun as a possible candidate to the Dragon throne. This would explain much; for instance, the German Consulate at Genoa flying the Chinese flag, and Germany's sweet reasonableness after last year's furies.

Baron Rauch does not conceal the probability of Chun's accession, if the Chinese Court persists in not returning to Peking. But this, remarks the correspondent, if it came about through Germany's agency, would be for many Powers interested, as well as for China itself, worse than the Emperor's permanent residence at Singan-fu.

The comical feature of the interview was supplied by Li-Hsi-Ming, who remarked to the correspondent: "The Europeans are very kind and pacific here in Europe, but"—he paused, as though he feared to hurt his hearer's feelings. The correspondent finishes the sentence for him—"out there they were not so!"

TORPEDO DESTROYERS LEAVING FOR CHINA.

The torpedo destroyers Virago and Sparrowhawk have received orders to proceed to China from the Pacific Station and are being made ready at Esquimaux. The boilers of the Sparrowhawk are being repaired, and the staff of the shops of the navy yard are working overtime to hurry the work. Either the cruiser Amphion or Phaeton will be detailed to convoy the torpedo boat destroyers to the Orient for the little four-funnelled boats cannot carry sufficient coal to make the trip.

SEA SERPENT STORY.

While steaming from China to Victoria B.C. the Glenogle experienced a typhoon off the Japan coast, and upon her arrival in port the following story of a sea serpent was related to a Vancouver reporter by the passengers and crew.

"You tell him how we saw it die," said the doctor. "No," whispered the mate, "let's tell him its abode yet,"—and so it was. They came upon the reporter and to him they unloaded the story.

"Yes," continued the mate, "we had a hard time in getting it on board, but with the aid of the whole ship's company we finally did, and we got it hauled up—here the doctor took up the yarn—"yes, and it stretches almost from the foremast to the mainmast."

With pad in hand the reporter hurried forth. It was the dull, "big gooseberry season," and he had the scoop of the century, a real sea serpent, first time one had been ever taken, and in last evening's paper appears the following in this regard:

"Stretching from nearly one mast to the other of the big ship was a prize souvenir of the voyage in the shape of what the crew call a sea serpent. The monster was found off the coast of Matsui Island, where the ship took shelter out of the fury of a typhoon blast. It is said to resemble very much the serpent caught in the Atlantic of which a picture recently appeared in a number of magazines."

"—and it is still six months to April Fool's Day."

The Glenogle is from China—it is not known where the creators of this latest sea serpent story are from; but it is usual to refer to all men who see sea serpents as "gentlemen of the highest character for veracity and men of first class standing in the community, but as for men who bring sea serpents as part cargo of ocean liners; and tell credulous reporters about them; they are otherwise spoken of—but they enjoyed the job and have mailed many marked copies of a certain evening paper to their friends.

The Glenogle has not had her high pressure cylinder repaired yet, and was sixteen days in going across. She brought a large cargo and landed 150 tons here. Among the passengers were Mr. Goldsmith, a St. Paul official of the N.P.; Mr. J. Dubois, of New York; W. C. Haughton; M. S. Fox and G. A. Hirstand, U. S. postal employees returning from Manila.

CHINA'S POSITION.

A BRITISH CONSUL'S STRIKING VIEWS.

BRITAIN A BAD THIRD TO RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

Reuter's representative has had an interview with Mr. Byron Brennan, C.M.G., British Consul-General at Shanghai, who has just reached England on the conclusion of over 30 years' consular work in China. In reply to questions Mr. Brennan said:

"From the standpoint of foreign interests the position in China is to-day far worse than it was before the international occupation. To begin with, as a result of the presence of the foreign troops the Chinese are now better able than ever to play off one Power against another. Formerly there was an impression that foreign interests were, at any rate to a certain extent, identical, but recent events have shown more clearly to the Chinese how divergent those interests really are, and have revealed the many jealousies existing between the foreign Powers consequent upon the various lines of policy followed."

"At one time the people believed that the foreign Powers pulled together. Now they know from personal observation that the scramble for China has already begun. But beyond this unveiling of our divergent interests the Chinese have also had an object lesson in the 'powerlessness' of united Europe to put effective pressure upon the country."

"One of the chief results of the recent troubles will be the extent to which all those Powers who value trade relations with China must necessarily suffer by the imposition of higher tariffs in order to pay the indemnity. It would have been in every way better if the Powers had foregone all claims for a pecuniary indemnity. For who will provide this? Not the Chinese. It would appear on the surface as if China had to pay something like £60,000,000, but, as a matter of fact, the greater portion of this will be derived from foreign trade, in which Great Britain has by far the greatest interest, so that to a large extent we are practically paying the indemnity out of our own pockets."

"But as a set-off against this, our commercial position will undoubtedly be improved after the revision of existing treaties by the removal of all ambiguous clauses."

Dealing with the attempts of the Chinese to evade certain articles of the Protocol Mr. Brennan said:

"I have already pointed out how very little China has really been made to suffer for the so-called 'Boxer outbreak,' and the only way to ensure her compliance with the very lenient terms imposed upon her is not to remove the pressure until she has accepted the terms and has begun to give effect to them, and then at the first sign that she intends to be faithless to her pledge to recall her to her obligations in such an emphatic manner that a second lesson will be unnecessary."

A DEAD LETTER FROM THE FIRST. The clause preventing the importation of arms and ammunition cannot have been seriously meant, because, as everyone conversant with the number and extent of Chinese ports knows, this is a physical impossibility. It is out of the question that foreign Powers should supervise the work of the Customs Houses, and although the Customs service is made up of Europeans, under a British Inspector-General, the members of the service are Chinese employees, who must be loyal to their masters. They cannot presume to act as detectives over the Government that employs them. It could never have been intended to enforce the clause, because it can be so easily evaded. Meanwhile the various arsenals in China, so far from closing, are working hard, and when I left the Shanghai arsenal was working double time. I should say that China has not the least intention of making an organised attempt to oust the foreigners for a long time to come, but while this may apply to the Government there is a very hostile feeling among the people in many parts of North China, and a good deal of local disturbance may be expected as a result of the legacy of hate which has been left by the foreign expedition in the country districts."

BRITAIN'S THIRD-RATE POSITION. Discussing the position of the various Powers in China Mr. Brennan said in conclusion:

"Russia, of course, has more influence than any other Power in China, and, so far as the Chinese Government is concerned, can do practically what she likes. Next in the estimation of the Chinese is Germany, who, both politically and commercially, is extremely active. So much is this recognised that China will now give way to Germany whenever she thinks the Emperor's Government is in earnest."

"Next on the list probably comes Great Britain. Perhaps the reason why we are not at the top of the tree may be found in the fact that we have always been anxious to do the fair thing where other countries have not been so punctilious in securing what they considered they were justly entitled to have."

"Any loss in British prestige is not so much because we have receded, as because other Powers have appeared on the scene and come abreast or ahead of us. This is not the fault of our policy, but is attributable to the progress of the other Powers. The general opinion among the British mercantile community in China is that we are not making the most of our opportunities, and they hold that more drastic means should be taken to punish officials who obstruct our trade."

"There can be no doubt that we are lacking in not giving the Chinese to understand that they have far more to lose than to gain by putting difficulties in our way."

"The United States lately seems to have arrived at the conclusion that America has a great stake in North China, and probably she will be the greatest sufferer by the closing of Manchuria to foreign trade."—Reuter.

CHECKS ON COMMERCIAL ENTERPRISE.

The hearing was concluded of Pollak v. Yangtze Corporation, Ltd., an action brought by Mr. Ignatz Pollak, an Austrian, who carries on business as a commercial agent and merchant at Shanghai, against the defendant Corporation to recover remuneration for services rendered. The defendant Corporation was formed in the autumn of 1898, with a nominal capital of about £300,000, with the object of obtaining mining and railway concessions in China. They sent out Dr. Dudgeon, who arrived at Shanghai in December, 1898, and put himself into communication with the plaintiff, who had been in China twelve years, and was well known to the leading Chinese in the different provinces which were under English influence. Plaintiff said he agreed to co-operate with Dr. Dudgeon, and worked for the defendant Corporation from December 16, 1898, until November 24, 1899, introducing Dr. Dudgeon to a number of influential persons, including a gentleman named Loh, the Viceroy of Nanking, and Tang, who had been secretary to the Marquis Tseng and Li Hung-chang. Among the concessions which plaintiff said he sought to obtain for the Corporation were a railway from Shanghai to Hanchow, through country under British influence, and mining and railway rights in the provinces of Cheh Kiang, Kiangsu, Fokien, and Hunnan. In November, 1899, Mr. Holiday, the managing director of the defendant Corporation, visited Shanghai, and terminated plaintiff's employment, and plaintiff contended that the reason the defendant Corporation eventually decided not to take up the concessions was that they had not sufficient capital to do so. When dismissed, plaintiff was asked to make his claim, and he said he was prepared to accept £800 in cash and a commission of 10 per cent. on the total amount for which the concessions were floated, half to be paid in cash and half in shares. The Corporation refused to accede to these terms, and in the result they offered the plaintiff £100, without admitting any liability. This offer was not accepted, and plaintiff came to England to prosecute his claim. The defendant Corporation denied liability.

Mr. Foote, K.C., and Mr. Germaine appeared for the plaintiff, while Mr. Rawlinson, K.C., and Mr. Cooper represented the defendant Corporation.

Plaintiff was recalled and cross-examined. He said there was no great difficulty in getting concessions from the Yamen by those who knew how to go about the work. Certain officials had to be "oiled." (Laughter.) None of the concessions received the consent of the Yamen, but that was due to the fact that Dr. Dudgeon did not "oil" when he told him to do so. (Laughter.) Dr. Dudgeon received a salary of £500 a year and expenses, and had the right to take up 666 Founders or Deferred shares at a shilling each. Dr. Dudgeon took up these shares, and in November, 1899, they were worth £7 each.

Mr. Rawlinson said, so far as he knew, these shares were never worth £7 each.

Mr. Justice Wills asked if the Corporation even paid a dividend.

Mr. Rawlinson replied in the negative. As a matter of fact, they never got a concession.

Mr. Warwick Welby Clarke, secretary to the defendant Corporation, said it was never arranged to pay the plaintiff a salary. In cross-examination, witness said the heavy fees to be paid to Chinese officials made the terms of the concessions prohibitive.

Mr. Justice Wills gave judgment for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at £1,500.

THE POLICEMAN ON SPANISH ART.

A SCENE AT THE GUILDHALL EXHIBITION.

American ladies were quizzing pictures through their pince-nez in the brilliant Spanish exhibition at the Guildhall the other afternoon, and uttering little exclamations of surprise and delight, while their male attendants were trying to keep up their enthusiasm. It was certainly very hot, and the rooms in which these pictures are housed were getting very full.

Police-constable XYZ was mopping his brow in a slow and reflective kind of way, and looking round for a little human sympathy. After all, there is nothing sadder than for a man to have information to impart and no one to impart it to. His eye rested upon a straw-hatted young man who looked innocent. He approached him carefully. The young man looked friendly; he, too, was in want of sympathy. "Very hot to-day, sir," said XYZ, continuing to mop. "Ah, this is a wonderful exhibition! Two thousand people a day, and all the 'higher classes,' as I may say. When I was first opened we had a wonderful lot of swells here. One day we had Buller and then Mr. Chamberlain and Arcot. The courtyard outside was full of carriages. But with all this stuff knocking about, we have had no case of pick-pocketing. It is surprising, really, because these ladies do carry their jewellery about in a funny way. Some of 'em have got watches a-mendaring down their dresses as if they were fair giving 'em away. I had to speak to one of 'em. 'Mam,' says I, 'excuse me, that is not the way to carry a watch

THE IMPORTATION OF ARMS.

The clause preventing the importation of arms and ammunition cannot have been seriously meant, because, as everyone conversant with the number and extent of Chinese ports knows, this is a physical impossibility. It is out of the question that foreign Powers should supervise the work of the Customs Houses, and though the Customs service is made up of Europeans, under a British Inspector-General, the members of the service are Chinese employees, who must be loyal to their paymasters. They cannot presume to act as detectives over the Government that employs them. It could never have been intended to enforce the clause, because it can be so easily evaded. Meanwhile the various arsenals in China, so far from closing, are working hard, and when I left the Shanghai Arsenal was working double time.

I should say that China has not the least intention of making an organized attempt to oust the foreigners for a long time to come; but while this may apply to the Government, there is a very hostile feeling among the people in many parts of North China, and a good deal of local disturbance may be expected as a result of the legacy of hate which has been left by the foreign expeditions in the country districts. But the Chinese Government has no desire that local disturbances against foreigners should succeed, for they know that they will again be held responsible. Probably for this and other reasons it will suit the Chinese to assist in preventing the importation of arms and ammunition. If this is not so the clause in question is of no value, as foreigners cannot ensure it being carried out. The clause forbidding the holding of examinations can also be most easily evaded by allowing candidates who will now be debared from competing in any particular district to inscribe their name in the register of the neighbouring district.

RUSSIAN, GERMAN, AND BRITISH INFLUENCE. Discussing the position of the various Powers in China, Mr. Brennan said in conclusion:—

Russia, of course, has more influence than any other Power in China, and so far as the Chinese Government is concerned can do practically what she likes. Next in the estimation of the Chinese is Germany, who both politically and commercially is extremely active. So much is this recognised that China will now give way to Germany whenever she thinks the Emperor's Government is in earnest. Next on the list probably comes Great Britain. Perhaps the reason why we are not at the top of the tree may be found in the fact that we have always been anxious to do the fair thing where other countries have not been so punctilious in securing what they considered they were justly entitled to have.

Any loss in British prestige is not so much because we have receded as because other Powers have appeared on the scene and come abreast of us. This is not the fault of our policy, but is attributable to the progress of the other Powers. The general opinion among the British mercantile community in China is that we are not making the most of our opportunities, and they hold that more drastic means should be taken to punish officials who obstruct our trade. There can be no doubt that we are lacking in not giving the Chinese to understand that they have far more to lose than to gain by putting difficulties in our way. The United States lately seems to have arrived at the conclusion that America has a great stake in North China, and probably she will be the greatest sufferer by the closing of Manchuria to foreign trade.

CHINESE EXCLUSION ACT IN CANADA.

WORK IN THE CANNERIES.

There appears to be an impression prevailing among the Chinese scattered along the borderline from the Rockies, says a Vancouver paper, to the coast that papers issued to them in either Canada or the United States entitle them to pass out of one country into the other and return when they feel like it.

It is now the whim of the United States commissioner of immigration to disillusionize the Oriental mind of this fragment of the imagination and it is likely that unless some of the celestialists come to a proper understanding of the situation the United States Government will shortly be purchasing a number of tickets Chinawards. It is not so very long ago that the order went forth from Washington that any Chinese found illegally within the jurisdiction of the United States should be deported to the Flowery Kingdom at the expense of the nation.

CHINESE DISLIKE MACHINERY AT VANCOUVER.

According to a Vancouver Journal a fish packing machine has just been invented that takes the place of 30 Chinamen. At a recent trial the machine packed so fast that the Chinese had to hustle to keep up with it. Finally they threw down their knives and announced that the machine must go or they would walk out of the factory. As the Chinamen were engaged by the contract, the machine was shut down.

All the canneries have ordered one or two machines, and a company is being organized to make them. This means the Chinese labour among the canneries is a thing of the past, for the machine does the work of the Chinese, and the Siwash does the rest. The inventor states that next year thousands of Chinese will be replaced by machines. The machine costs $2,200 and is a boon to the white labour market, as it takes two skilled white labourers to run each machine, which means that over 200 whites must be employed at high wages next season.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

THERAPION.

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, scurvy, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

THIEF'S NARRATIVE.

A young thief, who pleaded guilty at the County of London Sessions lately to stealing a purse from a woman, handed to Mr. Loveland-Loveland the following document, detailing his criminal career—

My Lord, I shall be very grateful to your lordship if you would kindly spare me a few moments of your valuable time to glance your eyes over this poor bit of pleading of mine.

At the tender age of six, my mother and father, who could never agree to gether mutually, came to the conclusion that it would be better to part. My father went, taking me with him, to a lodging-house in Dorset-street, Spitalfields, a street described by Mr. McKenzie in an article which appeared in a daily paper a few weeks back as the "worst street in London, being the resort of thieves, murderers, and burglars, where the criminals of to-morrow are trained to-day, where children six and eight years of age gamble in the gutters, and where 'babes in arms learn to sip gin at their mothers' breasts."

Such was the street, my lord, in which I was fated to pass my childhood days, among all the evil and corruption of that unholy neighborhood, where neither the fear of God nor the law is felt. My life, from the age of six years to thirteen, was surrounded by all the evil that years of wickedness and vice could bring to bear on a mind and character like mine, naturally weak and ill-fitted to bear the temptations to which it was hourly subjected. At the age of thirteen I was sent to the training-ship Shafesbury, where I spent three of the happiest years of my life. On the expiration of my time I came home on my father's advice, also on the doctor's, on account of being subject to walking in my sleep and nearly losing my life once by walking overboard in the English Channel. I arrived home about April, 1897, on a Saturday. My parents and my two sisters were just sitting down to tea and everything seemed to break up of peace and happiness.

THE BREAKING UP OF THE HOME.

But how deceiving are appearances at times! Instead of everything being as it seemed, my father was up to his eyes in debt, being in the clutch of money-lenders. The crash did not come at once. I obtained employment with the excellent character from the ship. Now commenced the breaking up of the home. My father went back to Dorset-street to live. I went along with him, and my mother and sisters took a little room and furnished it with what bits of things the creditors had left them. As a matter of course, I was recognized and snapped up at once by my old companions, most of whom I soon found had had a taste of prison. I had no inclination whatever to join my old associates in wrongdoing, being as happy at my work as could be expected under the circumstances. But all good intentions were destined to have a fall and to bring me to what I am and that through no fault of my own. On Sunday afternoons all the men were congregated outside out of the lodging-houses gambling, Me and another little chap, neither of us having on anything save our trousers and shirt, were eagerly watching the game when down came some policeman. . . . My friend and I were locked up, and on Monday morning the magistrate remanded us for a week. So I lost my employment and being flattered by my elders about having been in "stir," as they called prison, I began to lose my head and thought what a grand thing it was to do as you like, to have no master and get money without working for it.

I have made a resolution, my lord, never to return to a dishonest life, and I should like it as a great kindness if your lordship would put me under police supervision for a few years, which I am sure would deter me from breaking my resolution.—Yours (signed), Charles Stuart, alias Richard Davison.

The prisoner was sentenced to eighteen months' hard labour and two years' police supervision.
